INTRODUCTORY.

The sixth volume of the ALPENA CITY AND COUNTY DIRECTORY contains 300 pages. The first 46 pages are devoted to useful miscellaneous information relating to the city and county in general. This department of the work embraces a street and avenue guide, ward boundaries, city government, county officers, bands, banks, justices of peace in county, postoffices in county, terms of court, cemeteries, churches, convents and private schools, military, miscellaneous societies, newspapers, postoffice statistics, public schools, public halls and buildings, secret and benevolent societies, steamboat lines, United States offices, etc. Pages 47 to 227 contain an alphabetically arranged directory of all the inhabitants of the city, followed by 36 pages, containing a list of all persons engaged in business or the professions, classified under their respective callings. The remaining pages contain name, number of section, number of acres, assessed valuation, name of township and postoffice address of all farmers in Alpena county. Exclusive of firm names, removals and deaths, the Alpena City Directory shows 5,456 names, which, with the multiplier of 3—the figure which has heretofore been found to represent the names of women and children not included in the directory list—gives a total population of 16,368.

R. L. POLK & CO.'S
ALPENA CITY DIRECTORY.

1895-96.

MISCELLANEOUS DEPARTMENT.

STREETS AND AVENUES.

EXPLANATION.

An order was passed by the City Council authorizing the numbering of all streets of the city, and designating Chisholm street a dividing line for all streets crossing it, or running North and South, and Second Street for all streets running East and West. The system adopted is the same as used in Philadelphia and other large cities, known as the "decimal" system—one hundred numbers being allowed for each block. In cases where vacant lots, etc., occur, the usual numbers have been allotted them. On referring to the following guide, it will be noticed that the names of all streets and avenues follow each other in strictly alphabetical order without regard to location:
