INTRODUCTION

The volume herewith presented embodies a complete Directory of Alpena City and County for 1920. It fully maintains the standard established by previous issues, being one of a series issued by R. L. Polk & Co. for many years.

The several departments of the work are arranged in the following order:

The Miscellaneous Department, pages 15 to 34, contains information respecting state, city and county government, banks, cemeteries, churches, convicts, schools, hospitals, incorporated companies, libraries, clubs, societies (secret, social and beneficial), post office, public buildings and halls, United States offices, etc.

The Street and Avenue Guide, pages 35 to 75, embraces a list of all the streets and avenues in the city arranged in alphabetical order, the houses and buildings on the streets and avenues arranged in numerical order, with the names of the occupants or householders opposite each number.

The Alphabetical List of Names of citizens, business firms and corporations is included in pages 77 to 266.

The Classified Business Directory is embraced in pages 267 to 327, and lists the names of all persons and firms doing business or following a profession in the city and county of Alpena arranged under headings appropriate to the class of industry pursued or profession followed, this feature will be appreciated as a special trade directory or Buyers' Guide.

The final pages contain a list of farmers and other citizens residing in the rural areas of the county, the names being arranged by townships, the post office address of each being given with the number of rural route, if any, thus putting the public in touch with a class of citizens not listed in any other publication.
A Manufacturing and Commercial Center of Northeastern Michigan

(Courtesy of Mr. H. L. Churchill, Secretary Alpena Board of Commerce)

Alpena, the judicial seat of Alpena County is situated on Thunder Bay, on the western shore of Lake Huron, midway between Bay City to the south and the Straits of Mackinac, to the north. Reached by direct steamship service from Toledo, Detroit, Port Huron and other lake ports and with railroads entering from the north, west and south it has exceptionally fine transportation facilities to offer during the year around.

Alpena is growing and is rapidly taking her place as the foremost manufacturing and commercial city in northeastern Michigan. Its factories are producing paper, leather, Portland cement, flour, wood veneer, excels-sior, washing machines and from the rich deposits of limestone thousands of tons are shipped annually.

The extensive natural resources of Alpena county are attracting increasing attention. The rich agricultural lands are being developed rapidly, the inexhaustible supply of limestone and shale offer the finest materials for the highest grade of Portland cement, water power is being developed for manufacturing purposes and the water shipping facilities cannot be surpassed.

The City of Alpena is an aggressive and up-to-date corporation. It is operated under the city manager form of government, has municipally owned water and light plants, motorized fire department, efficiently managed public and parochial school systems, two banks with combined assets over six million dollars, public library, hospital, a daily newspaper and a live Board of Commerce.

Write to the Alpena Board of Commerce for any information on any subject pertaining to Alpena City or County you may desire. It will be gladly furnished.

Alpena Board of Commerce

The Alpena Board of Commerce is a live organization which has much to do with the material progress of the city and is responsible for many of its more modern tendencies. It is representative of the commercial, professional and industrial interests of the city, and had its inception in a desire to promote their growth as well as to foster their interests. They are behind every movement for civic betterment. The Board invites correspondence, and any inquiries addressed to Mr. H. L.
Churchill, the Secretary, will have courteous attention.

Advertising Alpena

Copies of this Directory are placed by the publishers in Directory Libraries, which are maintained in all the larger cities of the country, where they are readily available for reference use by the public. There they serve as perpetual advertisements of Alpena, for business men the country over realize that the City Directory repres-ts the community as it really is.
